

Everything But The House & ArtsWave Raise Over $63,000 for Arts NonProfits

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Cincinnati, OH - (July 23, 2020) – Everything But the House (EBTH) announced today the results from their recent auction in support of local arts nonprofits.

As part of the EBTH Cares effort that opens their online auction platform in support of local stakeholders, the region's premier full-service consignment resource recently held an auction offering Uncommon Experiences from the Queen City's leading arts organizations.

In partnership with ArtsWave, the engine for the region's arts and several of the Queen City's cultural assets, over $63,000 was raised to help ensure that Cincinnati's thriving arts community continues to inspire. One of the highest individual bids went to the exclusive Hamilton VIP Experience at The Aronoff Center for an astounding $33,500 alone.

"Cincinnati's unwavering support for our local nonprofits has always been something that I've been proud of as a Cincinnati. They go above and beyond to help those in need, inspire our souls, and challenge our perceptions through art, performance, and hospitality," said Brian Graves, co-founder and CEO, EBTH. "I hope it will inspire our city to look at the amazing work being done and champion their fierce comeback."

Cincinnati's arts sector was one of the first local industries hit economically by the health crisis and is predicted to be one of the last to recover, with museums just beginning to open and large performance venues closed. The auction began on Wednesday, July 8th and closed on Sunday, July 12th . Local shoppers had the opportunity to help the arts by bidding in support of ArtsWave and 30 Cincinnati nonprofit arts organizations, with 100% of proceeds directly benefiting their respective organizations.

EBTH is the true Marketplace for the Uncommon, presenting an eclectic variety of highly sought-after objects to personalize the lifestyles for over 2 million registered bidders, while sharing the history behind the objects and the collections they originated from. EBTH offers an unparalleled advantage for sellers by quickly responding to their needs while providing a comprehensive and intuitive dashboard to communicate progress and measure performance. EBTH is the trusted selling solution for hundreds of homeowners, enthusiasts and businesses, and the curated shopping destination for the luxe hobbyist or collector enthusiast looking to elevate and differentiate their surroundings.

About EBTH

Everything But The House aims to be the world's largest online marketplace for uncommon things. Founders, Jacquie Denny and Brian Graves, posted their first sale to EBTH.com in 2008 changing the way pre-owned goods are discovered. The site features an ever-changing assortment of thousands of uniquely curated, carefully authenticated art, jewelry, antiques, collectibles and other items — with every item starting at just $1. EBTH partners with collectors, consigners, estate managers and homeowners to connect a world of shoppers seeking rare and wonderful things.
